

ETHICS OFFICER CERTIFICATION PROGRAMME

18 – 22 FEBRUARY 2013

The King III Report on Corporate Governance indicates that corporate governance is grounded on an ethical foundation, and also sets guidelines on the management of ethics in organisations. This course will provide participants with practical, skills-based knowledge to enable them to fulfil their Ethics Officer responsibilities. Preparing current and future Ethics Officers for their various roles and responsibilities increases the effectiveness of an ethics office, reduces organisational risk, and prevents the waste of time and resources.

The programme will prepare you for:

- Identifying the need for the company's ethics management programme;
- Setting up an ethics office;
- Assessing ethics-related risks and vulnerabilities;
- Developing ethics statements, codes of ethics and other ethics policies;
- Developing and implementing ethics management tools, processes and strategies, including whistle-blowing;
- Communicating critical ethics data;
- Implementing and managing an ethics infrastructure;
- Developing an ethics training strategy;
- Understanding the role of ethics in corporate governance;
- Understanding ethics concepts and developing ethical reasoning skills; and
- Dealing with ethics-related enquiries.

Who should attend?

- Prospective ethics officers;
- Current ethics officers;
- Current compliance officers interested in expanding their skills;
- HR managers; and
- Risk managers.

Why should you attend?

- Increased ethics and compliance management effectiveness and efficiency;
- Increased trust in the ethics function by employees and other stakeholders; and
- Reduced risk of ethical misconduct and violation of laws and regulation.
